

AGS Begins Expansion into Scaling Apprenticeship Market

March, 2020

With the launch of its newest product, AGS Prime™, AGS has begun expansion into a new market - Scaling Apprenticeship Grant recipients. Scaling Apprenticeship grants promote the large-scale expansion of apprenticeships across the nation by supporting the training of thousands of apprentices in new or expanded programs and by assisting partners in their efforts to create and scale the new or expanded apprenticeship programs. This grant program will also increase apprenticeship opportunities for all Americans, particularly veterans, military spouses and those individuals currently underrepresented in existing apprenticeship programs. AGS believes that AGS Prime™ is the best data management system to help these grantees achieve compliant reporting with a flexible, configurable environment and are excited to enter the market with this product.
